

A white unicorn stands on a dark, rocky cliff overlooking a vast blue ocean. The unicorn's horn is illuminated by a bright, glowing light source in the sky, which also casts a beam of light onto the cliff. A crescent moon is visible in the dark blue night sky, surrounded by stars. The overall scene is ethereal and magical.

Scarlet's Journey

BY SUMMER GARDNER

Scarlets journey index

- The loss of my life
- The journey
- Boom
- Loneliness
- Happily ever after

Chapter 1: the loss of my life

Ten years ago was when it all began, ten years since my life turned black, ten years since I lost everything.

“scarlet, scarlet wake up they are coming” whispered Ma “what is going on” I questioned. “no time to explain, I will tell you later, trust me.”

Now my heart was beating with fear as a sick feeling grew inside me as if a thousand butterflies had been set free inside my stomach.

Chapter 2: the journey

Stepping into the cart, I feel scared like the whole world is closing in on me. Looking out the window which is just a cut out hole from an oak wood cart I could see delicate silhouettes of palm trees which must of meant we were near the beach. Drawing my eyes to the horizon the faded pink and purple sky filled with the bright moon.

Chapter 3: boom

Then we came to a sudden halt at the small dark beach ...we were not the only ones. In front of us there were about twenty men standing in a orderly fasion, “Run” screamed Ma. “To the woods then get as far away as possible,” I heard da whisper to Charles. Immediately I ran deep into the forest but charlse had not come suddenly I heard a boom, which made birds fly from the trees, infact many booms or bangs they were gone I was alone, with the only thing I could trust the stars.

Chapter 4: loneliness

As I catch my breath, I hear wolf howling they were near very near so near that I could see there shadows in the moonlight were could I go I was not sure so I started to run towards the beach as I reached the edge of the forest I peered out they were gone so was my family. The wolfs were gaing on me suddenly I tripped over a rock they were looking down on me now so I closed my eyes ready to die. "Hello" growled a wolf "you can talk?" I said in a confused expression "yes not to normal humans but you are special and you must go to the mist." said the youngest who seemed to be quite a clever clogs. "Why and what is the mist.

Chapter 5 :happily ever after

“Where is my family?” I questioned “ I will tell you later trust me.” said the she-wolf. “Ma is that you.” “Yes darling now lets get to the mist that is the only place we can be happy.”

Join scarlet on her journey to survive one day that could ruin her life or save her family!